Long standing Flash Media Server hosting and streaming media provider Uvault have launched a new multi-platform streaming service. The new service supports both Flash as well as HLS and RTSP, and is suited to deliver live and on demand content not only to desktop computers but also mobile devices.

In addition to the streaming delivery of the content the service also offers a media management console, adaptive streaming features, a custom player wizard and extensive reporting.

Prices start at $100/month for on demand and $50/month for live broadcasts. A free trial is available.
