Senior Flash Developer required: An opportunity to join top Flash development agency in Sydney, Australia...

Who wouldn't want to work in Sydney? The Farm Digital (<http://www.thefarmdigital.com.au>) is one of Australia's leading independent digital agencies, recognised for outstanding production and strategic thinking. We specialise in strategy, design and development of applications and content across multiple digital platforms, including internet, mobile, broadcast and experiential multimedia.

The Farm's team includes skilled and passionate designers and developers focused on delivering pioneering digital solutions. If you're looking to join a team to develop & share your skills in an environment that expects exceptional results, but respects a work/ life balance, then The Farm is for you.

Position requirements:

Object orientated programming; Actionscript 2/3 code and architecture; Flex application development; Flash-Lite (mobile) development experience; Flash game development; Localisation techniques for non-English content; Technical documentation authoring; Use of design patterns; Remoting; Flash & Javascript integration; Video, Sound and Motion graphics integration.

As this is a senior Flash role, team leadership and mentoring experience is required with project management and 5+ years experience as a programmer desirable.

If you're interested in applying, please send a resume and portfolio to work AT thefarmdigital.com.au

(We're happy to talk to the successful candidate about relocation options to Sydney, who wouldn't want to work in Sydney!)
